Volunteer Duties – just a reminder that fulfilling your duties is important to the functioning of camp and our offerings. Your three duties are a key obligation of being a cottage owner. If something comes up it is your responsibility to switch with someone or find a suitable replacement. When duties are missed committee chairs often have to step in to keep things going. Those folks are already giving generously of their time and really don't want to do another duty. A missed duty will result in a $250 fine. Remember to dress suitably for your duties. Closed toed shoes and t-shirts are recommended for kitchen duties.

Decks, sheds, cottage construction – just a reminder to contact Howard Boress or Kurt Potthast to have Buildings & Grounds review and approve all project plans and timing of the project.

Youth - A big shout out to our staff and campers for powering through week #1 of Program. It was nice to see so much activity each day on the Afield and at the pool. If you want to see our campers and staff in action, but can't quite make it to morning gym or afternoon swim lessons, come to the Rhats next Friday at 7pm and you'll see them jam out to different styles of music at our annual ITC Rock Concert. It's a show you don't want to miss!
