

Camp Updates

Hi All!!! I hope everyone is having a good summer so far. Times can be a bit tough with the craziness that is going on. Please be responsible and wear a mask when necessary and practice social distancing. I would like to share fun summer stories going on around camp. You can email me at cmostyn1960@yahoo.com. Stay safe and healthy!!!! Thank you! Chris Mostyn

Brief Camp Update: the Camp Committee met today however the IDPH has not issued detailed Phase 4 guidelines yet for bars, restaurants, and pools so we will be meeting Sunday June 28 to review (if they've been issued) and determine what, if anything makes sense.

The big parking lot has been a huge issue. The extremely wet May, along with changing underground springs has created a quagmire in some sections. B&G did some research in the swampy areas and found that decades ago when the big parking lot was created (or probably enlarged), a lot of ash was used to fill in the low areas. The ash was laid on top of the original clay, which results in the perfect mushy swamp when water accumulates. B&G has a plan to remove and replace the ash with appropriate material over the rest of the summer.

It has been noted that many of the youth are out enjoying camp, which is awesome. However parents need to keep tabs on their kids to avoid them getting into things or worse yet getting hurt.

Watch this spot for a further update hopefully next weekend.

Gut Heil! (Originally posted on the Facebook pages June 20, 2020)

The camp committee will be meeting this Sunday morning to consider what activities can be held in some way under Phase 4 during the remainder of the season. An update will be provided on the Facebook pages, the District website, and the next bulletin. Thank you, Scott Lau

Note from Art Stevenson - There will be updated information after the camp meeting this weekend

Thank you Chuck Daily donated an American flag that we will use for the A-field and the Flagpole at the main entrance is getting an overhaul

IT HAS BEEN REPORTED THAT MANY PEOPLE ARE PARKING NEXT TO THEIR COTTAGES AND DRIVING OVER THE ITC PROPERTY WHICH IS NOT PERMITTED.

Pool – Still working to repair things at the pool. Hoping to open early July. Thank you, Dave Z
